CELINA CITIZENS POLICE VOLUNTEER GROUP AND JUNIOR CITIZENS POLICE VOLUNTEER GROUP

The creation of a Citizens Police Volunteer Group and a Junior Citizens Police Volunteer Group is consistent with the department's community policing philosophy and represents a strategic partnership between the community and the police. Moreover, the citizen volunteers will become familiar with the police department's philosophy, strategies, and policies. These groups will become citizen ambassadors of the police department and foster police community relations. In addition, these groups represent a valuable resource for the department who can represent the police department at special events and assist officers at the department with appropriate assignments. Most importantly, the Junior Citizen volunteers will be able to bond with police officers, develop an understanding of police practices, and develop life skills in serving their community.

To apply for any of these groups, please complete the application found on the city website www.celina-tx.gov
